
What is the 'We Both Read' book series?

The We Both Read book series is produced by the Treasure Bay publishing company. These are reading materials specially designed to foster the development of literacy skills in elementary age children. This concept encourages shared reading between parents and children. One side of the page contains language tailored to the adult vocabulary while the other side contains language more suitable for younger readers. Research has shown this format is highly-effective in building and improving literacy skills. This unique approach to learning builds relationships as well as reading skills.
